Santa Fe – In a joint collaborative effort, the New Mexico State Police will be working hand in hand with city, county and Federal law enforcement agencies in New Mexico.

Residents of New Mexico will see over the upcoming holidays an increase in law enforcement activities such as speed, seatbelt, DWI, and warrant operations, these as well as personal steps each of you can take in your homes and on the roadways will assist us in making our communities safer.

Even with the budget shortfall that is beyond the crosshairs of the economic rifle, you can be assured that we as your State Law Enforcement Community will take steps to vigorously prevent a reduction in services to our Land of Enchantment.
